You only need to click the "Join Zoom Meeting" to be taken directly there. Etiquette for Live Webinar Training

Be in a quiet room - no TV sound, babies crying, dogs barking; turn phone ringer off.

Be prepared and know how to mute your mic. Sometimes it is necessary to turn mics down or off while listening to eliminate feedback and static.

It's okay to show or not show your face - camera on or off - we still know you are there!

If your camera is on, be aware of your actions. Everyone can see you, movements are exaggerated and can be distracting to the speaker. Try to stay still and look attentive!

Be somewhat presentable, at least from the waist up!

Don't eat or chew gum with mic on.

Take turns talking - save questions for when speaker asks for them or says you can jump in any time.

Print handouts - if any - ahead of time. Might want to have paper and pen handy for notes.

You're still not sure you can do this?

Guess what, we will have practice sessions between 5:00 pm and 6:00 pm before each presentation. Since you will receive the email link 2 hours before the presentation, your welcome to practice. Please remember not to share this link, as each spot is reserved. We do not want anyone interrupting or highjacking the presentation. Use the link to login or call the phone numbers to speak with the room host. For any technical issues or just say "HI". It's easier than you think...
